TestPig is now added to the list of approved CIR organizations.

We proudly announce that TestPig is approved as a research center eligible for the "research tax credit" (CIR). TestPig is recognized as having the capacity to carry out R&D on behalf of French companies.

That means to you that if TestPig work is carried out within the framework of a project meeting the eligibility criteria of the CIR, your company may include the TestPig invoices in your expenses eligible, and thus benefit from a 30% tax credit on the invoice.

For your information we include this link stating the fact that TestPig is now on the list of approved CIR organizations:

We hope that this possibility for reducing your R&D costs opens for great partnership opportunities.

Please contact us for a mutual presentation of our companies and a discussion of your projects.

Kind regards,
